Research profile

Lydia Paparriga-Artemiadi, Dr iuris, is Research Director and Acting Director of the Research Centre for the History of Greek Law of the Academy of Athens. Her work covers Roman, Byzantine and post-Byzantine law and the formation of the legal order of the modern Greek state.

Her research focuses on Greek philosophical and rhetorical influences on Justinianic legal texts, Byzantine legal interpretation and the administration of secular justice, legal diversity in the post-Byzantine world, and the legal foundations of the Greek state during the revolutionary and Kapodistrian periods. She combines the study of legal reasoning with archival research and the transcription, edition and commentary of notarial and judicial sources.

She has directed and coordinated research projects at the Centre, managed its publications, organised its library and archives, and supervised the digitisation and documentation of its collections.

Education

1995 Doctorate in Law, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, with distinction. Dissertation: “The Legal Protection of Family Property in Mykonos (17th-18th Centuries)”. Supervisor: Dimitrios Gofas; advisory committee members: Spyridon Troianos and Ioulia Velissaropoulou-Karakosta.

1985-1988 National School of Public Administration. Ranked first in the 1985 entrance examination and first on graduation following the final examinations of 29 May 1988.

1984-1985 Seminars at the Council of State on administrative law and administrative procedural law.

Research projects

2022-2024 The Autograph Nomokanon of the Notary of Thebes

Principal investigator of the project on the autograph Nomokanon (Nomimon) of the notary of Thebes and the critical restoration of the learned manuscript tradition of 1561. Supervised five collaborators transcribing Athens Codex 8 (580 chapters, 426 folios) and studying its textual history. Prepared scientific, technical and financial reports and organised recruitment. A further phase of transcription of two manuscripts and preparation of a critical apparatus was planned for 2024-2025.

Since 2012 Byzantine Scholia and Interpretatio Legis

Individual research on legal reasoning and interpretation in Byzantine scholia, drawing mainly on the Basilica scholia, the Ecloga librorum I-X Basilicorum and the Peira. Topics include apparent contradictions between laws, open-textured and evaluative concepts, judicial discretion, the progressive filling of legal gaps and the limits of secular adjudication.

2013- Byzantine Documents in Southern Europe

Collaborative research on the legal history of Greek-speaking populations around the Mediterranean, with the Association Pierre Belon / Fondation Maison des Sciences de l’Homme, Liza Bénou, Vera von Falkenhausen, Cristina Rognoni and I. Chatzakis.

2012-2016 Legal Foundations of the New Greek State

Research on unpublished memoranda and legal opinions submitted to Ioannis Kapodistrias and documents of the Ministries of Justice and Foreign Affairs. Examined the organisation of justice, especially disputes between Greek and foreign nationals, the activity of Ioannis Genatas and the use of recta ratio. Source transcription undertaken with Eleni Bazini and I. Chatzakis.

2015-2016 Digital Academy and the Centre's Collections

Supervised and coordinated the digitisation and documentation of 11,748 records in four collections: Legal History Studies; Outline of Post-Byzantine Legal History; Legal Sources of the Post-Byzantine and Modern Greek Periods; and the Charalambos Papastathis Donation. Wrote eight thematic and introductory texts and reviewed the digital documentation.

2006-2011 Outline of the History of Post-Byzantine Law

Directed and coordinated the collaborative project with I. Arnaoutoglou and I. Chatzakis. Shared the work of identifying, legally classifying and indexing sources; wrote the introduction, added entries and source extracts, and edited the volume. Published as Pragmateiai of the Academy of Athens 63 (2011), 727 pp.

2008-2010 Organisation of the Centre's Library and Archives

Supervised the reclassification of approximately 10,000 volumes and the electronic cataloguing of books, offprints and donations. Directed the arrangement and transcription of Ministry of Justice documents from the post-revolutionary and Kapodistrian period (1824-1830), providing research infrastructure for modern Greek legal history.

2005-2007 Women and Marriage in Corfu

Coordinated the legal aspects of postdoctoral research within the Ionian University's PYTHAGORAS II project, led by Eleni Aggelomati-Tsougarakis, "Women and Marriage in Corfu: Economic Activities and Social Reproduction (17th-19th Centuries)". Examined notarial sources and judicial and arbitral decisions.

2002-2005 Greek Influences on the Corpus Juris Civilis

Collected and critically assessed Greek passages embedded in the Latin texts of Justinian's codification, with attention to Greek philosophy and rhetoric, textual history and connections with Byzantine legal literature. Resulted in the 2006 monograph and related studies in criminal, public and obligations law.

1999-2001 Judicial Decisions of the State of Parga

Directed a collaborative project editing and commenting on unpublished judicial decisions from the early nineteenth century. Studied justice in Parga, Preveza and Vonitsa, sources from the recent Venetian past and the registers of the Metropolis of Preveza. Results appeared in volume 35 (2001) of the Centre's Yearbook.

1990-2002 Sources of Post-Byzantine Law

Worked with A. Sifoniou-Karapa, G. Rodolakis and D. Karamboula on the transcription and edition of notarial registers from Naxos and Corfu and the study of obligations, family and inheritance law. In 2000-2002, collaborated with Menelaos Tourtoglou on the role of the Ottoman fleet's dragomans in the administration of justice in the Aegean islands.

Editorial work and publication management

Since 2006 she has been responsible for the Centre's publications, including the collection and assessment of contributions, reports to its Supervisory Committee, liaison with authors, translation of abstracts, proof correction and production supervision. This work includes volumes 40-52 of the Yearbook and the following independent volumes and collective works.
